was established in 1980. Davis' legal affiliations include the Florida Bar Association, American Bar Association, Dade County Bar Association, United States Supreme Court and the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh and Fifth Circuits. Davis has received recognition from the "Put Something Back" Pro Bono Project of the Circuit Court of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit for delivery of significant pro bono legal services.

Thomas Ringel, a resident of Palmetto Bay, is a founding shareholder of the firm and specializes in the practice of real estate law. He has significant expertise in residential as well as commercial real estate law. Ringel is a member of the 2006 Charter Revision Committee for the Village of Palmetto Bay and the Board of Directors of the University of Miami School of Law Alumni Association. In 2002, he served as Vice Chairperson of the Palmetto Bay Charter Commission. His professional affiliations include the South Miami-Kendall Bar Association, the Florida Bar, United States Supreme Court, United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, and the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth and Eleventh Circuits.

Candis Trusty, a resident of downtown Miami, handles civil and commercial litigation, probate, guardianship and elder law. She frequently lectures on topics related to probate, guardianship and elder law before local business groups, professional organizations, civic groups, schools and corporations. An active community leader, Trusty is also a lecturer for the "Put Something Back" Oversight Committee of the Florida Bar and a member of the Florida Bar Mentor Pilot Program. She has been recognized with a Proclamation of
